Mary Hillary Died at Calgary on Wednesday

Suffered From a Lengthy Illness; Was a Popular Member of Coleman's Younger Set; Funeral on Saturday Morning.

It was with deep regret that the many friends of Mary Darlene Hillary, 21, heard of her untimely passing at the Holy Cross hospital, Calgary, at 8.45 a.m. on Wednesday. She had been suffering from a sickness for the past six years and against which she bravely fought. Her condition grew gradually worse until five weeks ago she was taken to Holy Cross hospital, where she died on Wednesday. Her mother had remained with her till last Sunday evening when she returned home. A phone call was received early Wednesday by her parents to come to Calgary at once, and shortly after received a second message that their daughter had passed away at 8.45 a.m.

Deceased was born in Drumheller on December 13, 1921, and came to Bellevue when six years old with her parents. She attended the Bellevue schools and in June of last year accompanied her parents to Coleman, where she continued her education. She was a Grade XII student and very popular. She was secretary of the high school paper and was a girl guide. This year she won a prize for having the highest marks in her First Aid class.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hillary, and sister Betty. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McIntyre are an uncle and aunt.

Funeral will be held from the family residence on Second street on Saturday at 10 a.m. and proceed to the Holy Ghost Catholic church, where Requiem High Mass will be sung. Interment will be in Holy Ghost cemetery.

Coleman Boys May Be In Sicily Scrap

Several Pass Men Have Been In Britain Since First Canadian Contingent Landed Three Years Ago.

There were many an anxious parent in the Crows Nest Pass last Friday evening when the news was flashed over the radio that Sicily had been invaded and that Canadians were taking a leading role in the invasion.

No news of any consequence other than the fact that progress toward major objectives are satisfactory, has been released by Allied headquarters. Much comfort however has been received from front line despatches corroborated by official announcements, that casualties have been very light up to the present time.

It has been announced that Alberta men are taking part in the invasion and since Pass men are to be found in practically every Alberta unit there is little doubt but that some of them are in action against the enemy.

BLAINMORE'S WEST WARD SCHOOL

GAIN HIGH MARKS IN MUSIC EXAMS

Two of Mrs. T. J. Costigan's piano pupils gained exceptionally good marks in recent examinations. Stanley Klisch was first in the Crows Nest Pass with a mark of 136. One point behind with 135 came Pat. Fraser, of Coleman. Pat had the highest mark in piano in Coleman.

The Journal will endeavor to get examination results from Mrs. Costigan, Mrs. Pinkney and Mr. Moser for publication in the near future.

Flt. Lt. Teddy M. Opulski Killed in Action Overseas

Brother of Mike Opulski; Killed in Accident in Britain.

A wire has been received by Mike Opulski informing him of the death of his brother, Ft. Lt. Teddy Opulski, in a flying accident in Britain, on Wednesday, May 12.

It was only in October of last year that Mike contacted his brother after an absence of three years.

Deceased had been a member of the Polish army when Poland was attacked by Germany in 1939. He transferred to the Polish air force and was shot down in air battle. He escaped to France and later to England where he maintained the fight against his country's oppressors.

He was credited with 17 planes shot down and had received decorations from the Polish, French and British governments.

Coleman Leads Pass In July War Stamp Sales With $195; Blainmore-Frank Has $135 And Bellevue-Hillcrest $125

Miss Canadas and Pass Merchants Are Supporting Campaign in Grand Style.

The campaign for purchasing war stamps to "Stamp Out the U-Boat" is progressing quite well and all towns in the Pass show a healthy increase in stamp sales during the first two weeks in July.

At the present time Coleman leads in sales with $195, Blainmore having $135 and Bellevue-Hillcrest $125. Sales are at their heaviest at the week-end when the public is doing its week-end shopping and the Miss Canadas are on the job.

None of the towns have reached their respective quotas but are expected to do so before the campaign closes at the end of the month.

All money received in the purchase of war stamps throughout the Pass and Pincher Creek will be used to purchase depth charges for H.M.C.S. "Blainmore". Each depth charge costs $90.

Coleman's Greek War Relief Fund Collections Total $654.00

Large Majority of Wage Earners Gave Good Support to Fund; Money to be Sent to Eastern Canada Headquarters.

The magnificent sum of $654.00 has been collected within the town for the Greek War Relief Fund. The town council, who started the drive, are deeply grateful to all citizens for their grand support to the fund and for the large amount raised.

Here is how the donations were received: International, including mine officials, office staff and miners, $303.00; McGillivray, including mine officials, office staff and miners, $199.00; coal companies, $30; Town of Coleman, $10.00; hospital staff, $5.00; merchants, $30.00; "Cameronians" Junior Red Cross, $26.00; Mary Wilson, $1.00.

The Junior Red Cross gave all they earned in selling the "free" tickets in the raffle for the Calgary Greek home. Little Mary Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wilson, won a dollar for her decorated bicycle in the July 1 sport day and promptly handed it over to Mayor Antrobus as her donation to the Greek Relief Fund.

The money, which is in the custody of Mayor Antrobus, will be sent to the eastern Canada headquarters of the Greek War Relief Fund.

Many have given their contribution to the Greek Relief Fund by the purchase of tickets on the Greek Calgary home and over $160 in tickets have been sold locally, which is a very fine showing. These tickets are still being sold at Antrobus' office by Mrs. Antrobus, and by the Junior Red Cross.

Mayor's Message

To Greek Fund Contributors: It is with sincere pleasure that I extend to you on behalf of the council our grateful thanks for your contributions, which have amounted to the magnificent total of $654.

The money will be forwarded to the proper authorities in eastern Canada and in due course will buy the food and medical supplies to alleviate in small part the suffering and torture of the Greeks in Europe, who have so long and so courageously helped fight our battle against the common enemy.

Mayor Fred Antrobus.

MRS. HORACE ALLEN BEREAVED

Mrs. Horace Allen, her father, Mr. Thomas O'Donnell, and two nieces left on Tuesday's train for Canmore, where they were to attend the funeral of her brother John, who died in the Red Deer hospital.

...V... TWENTY-TWO APPEALS AGAINST ASSESSMENTS

A total of twenty-two appeals have been received by the town secretary against the 1943 assessments. It is stated that a number of appeals are against land assessment. The court of revision will be held on Friday evening, July 23.

SIXTY CADETS TO GO INTO CAMP NEXT WEEK

Four Officers To Accompany Boys To Macleod Air School For Ten Days Training.

Sixty Air Cadets comprising Coleman and Bellevue-Hillcrest units and four officers, Ft.-Lieut. Harold Houghton, Percy Dickie-son, Rev. J. E. Kirk and W. Keywan, will go into camp at Macleod air school for ten days, July 20 to 30.

The boys will be given instruction in aircraft, etc. and are expected to be given air flights.

Ration Book No. 3 to be Issued in August

Edmonton—New ration books will be issued in Canada August 25, 26, 27 and 28, according to information received by C. G. McKee, regional superintendent of rationing.

Any community may operate any or all of these days, and if conditions warrant may distribute books before or after these dates, providing they assume responsibility of advertising their own dates locally. Ottawa officials have notified the Alberta superintendent.

"Local Ration Boards have been increased from 37 to 52, thus greatly facilitating the distribution of books throughout the province," Mr. McKee states.

...V... ELKS' PICNIC

Coleman Elks will hold their annual picnic on Sunday, July 25 when they, their wives and children will meet at the lodge hall at 1 p.m. and then embark on the Scout Camp for a day's outing.

Help your country to victory—enlist now!

NO JOURNALS WILL BE PUBLISHED JULY 22nd and 29th

Unsuccessful effort has been made to secure skilled help to work in The Journal office while members of the staff went on holiday. As a result it has been decided to close the office during the last two weeks of July, re-opening August 2nd, in order that the staff may enjoy two weeks vacation.

Everything In Readiness For Elks' Carnival

Fifteen Booths Have Been Erected During Week; Tickets on Major Prizes Have Enjoyed Brisk Sale.

Saturday and Monday will be nights of fun and music as large crowds gather at the Coleman Elks' carnival in the Coleman arena. It is expected citizens from neighboring Pass towns will be here in force.

During the week a little army of Elks have been busy erecting the booths, which will house the large and assorted array of prizes. There will be fifteen booths and many good prizes will be featured.

The large dance floor has been made ready for dance lovers and a local orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music.

A brisk sale has been maintained for the past several weeks on the major prizes. The handsome Alexander rug, measuring 9 by 10½ feet and valued at $75, will be drawn for on Saturday evening at midnight. On Monday evening some lucky person will win the beautiful 4-piece bedroom suite.

A refreshment booth will be in the arena and will sell soft drinks, sandwiches and hot dogs.

Proceeds from the carnival will be devoted to furthering the Elks' local and war charity activities.

Dick Shone Badly Injured By Fall

Had Been on Fishing Trip With Friends; Fell With Head Hitting Large Rock; In Hospital Since Thursday Evening

Up to Tuesday morning the condition of Dick Shone had shown little change since his injury Thursday night and only immediate relatives are allowed to visit him at the local hospital.

Dick, along with friends Bill Cole, Percy Letcher and Jim Fisher, all of Bellevue, went fishing on Thursday afternoon. All four fished during the afternoon and halted for an hour to make supper. It was shortly after supper that the accident happened. Dick commenced fishing and according to an eye-witness he brought his line out of the water, it striking past him, the hook catching in a tree.

In an effort to free the hook he put one arm around a support and reached out for the hook. When off balance the support broke, Dick crashing down with all his weight to the ground where he hit his forehead hard against a large rock. Percy Letcher, who was nearby, at once rushed to his side and Bill Cole, who was on the other side of the river arrived minutes later.

It took the two men fifteen minutes to bring Dick around and about an hour and a half before they thought it safe to start the trip home, when he was taken to the hospital.

Inter-Empire Support

SINCE THE BEGINNING OF THE WAR and for a number of years previous to that time, persistent efforts have been made by the Axis powers to spread the impression that the British Empire is about to disintegrate because of internal dissension. The speed with which all parts of the Empire joined with the Mother Country when war was declared in 1939, was ample proof of the false nature of these claims, yet they have continued from time to time in utterances based either on enemy propaganda or on misinformation. The part played by Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand and other parts of the Empire in naval, air and military operations of the war is well known, and their importance is recognized. There are, however, many parts of the Empire, including the Colonies, who have made notable contributions about which we have heard little or nothing, and the British Ministry of Information has recently published some very interesting facts in this connection.

Much Monetary Support Given

We are told that in addition to the support of their own local military forces, members of the British Colonial Empire have contributed over $100,000,000 in voluntary gifts towards the prosecution of the war. In Ceylon, $3,250,000 has been contributed to war funds, and in addition $1,650,000 has been contributed to war funds for the same purpose. In recognition of the latter contribution there is a Ceylon squadron of Halifax bombers in the Royal Air Force. The people of British East Africa have subscribed more than $13,000,000 for war bonds, and in Tanganyika a war savings campaign, which commenced with an objective of $2,000,000 was quickly over-subscribed and this figure has since been doubled. In Trinidad, investors in one week purchased more than $37,000 worth of war savings certificates, and the Trinidad Bomber Fund had given more than $900,000 for the purchase of a bomber before March, 1943. It is known that loans totalling more than $30,000,000 have been given to the British Government by the governments of the colonies and by private individuals residing there. In addition to this, Colonial Governments are paying the interest on loans raised within the colonies, and lent to the British government free of interest.

Inter-Empire Help Generous

Apart from the financial help which the colonies are giving to the Empire war effort, it is interesting to note that many parts of the Empire are assisting each other in carrying on vital tasks during these critical times. In spite of wartime restrictions, Britain is finding it possible to send machinery to Kenya, Northern Rhodesia, East Africa, British Guiana and other colonies to assist with the total mobilization of their natural resources. For a food production drive in Kenya, Canada is producing 150 plows and this is only one of many examples of inter-Empire help which goes on all the time. The volume of the voluntary help which is coming from the smaller colonies when the future of the Empire is at stake, does not show a desire on their part to end the present system, or evidence any dissatisfaction in their relations with His Majesty's government. If the Axis nations were to fully comprehend these facts and figures, they would cease to count on the hope of dissension from within as an aid to their efforts to break down the Empire. Prime Minister Churchill has many times referred to the staunch loyalty with which the Empire has joined to support the prosecution of the war, and doubtless these are some of the facts on which he has based his confidence.

THE USE OF NATIVE GREENS

We know that we should eat as many leafy vegetables—fresh if possible—as we can and in the summer it is easy to do just this. Most of us eat lettuce, tomatoes, and celery and consider that we have eaten a sufficient amount of fresh vegetables. It has been shown by food analysis that lettuce and celery have very low vitamin and mineral content, so we would be wise if we altered our summer menus this year. Green peppers, parsley, dandelion greens, water cress could all be used; chopped and added to a salad, they are all good and very nutritious. Instead of eating salad, they are an excellent source of vitamin C and have a good flavour. I know some of you have been eating beet tops, but now when I am growing your own vegetables practically all of you can have beet tops fresh and crisp from your garden instead of wilted as they usually are in the store. To show you how valuable these native greens are to your diet I am giving you a table with the content of vitamin C and A and iron an average serving contains:

	Fe	Vitamin A	Thiamin	Riboflavin	Vit. C
	Mg.	Units	Mg.	Mg.	Mg.
Turnip greens.....	2.0	13822	.12	.135	101
Green peppers.....	.22	8433	.09	.101	101
Chard.....	8.0	28222	.06	.24	40.2
Kale.....	.7	4000	.06	.09	43
Spinach.....	2.0	4506	.06	.09	43
Beet Greens.....	2.0	4506	.06	.09	43
Lettuce.....	.2	702	.02	.5	50

Compare the top six vegetables with the conventionally used lettuce and celery.

These figures are for the vegetables in the fresh state. Nutritional value of cooked vegetables depends on the method used for cooking.

When you cook leafy vegetables use a little boiling water and boil for as short a time as possible to retain the maximum amount of the vitamins and minerals. Always remember to save the cooking water as it has the vitamins and minerals that have dissolved out of the vegetables.

A post card request to the Western Division Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto, will bring you a free copy of its authoritative vitamin chart.

CONSTITUTION REFORM

A post-war program in Canada is impossible without constitutional reform, Premier Stuart S. Garson told delegates to a conference on world missions at Winnipeg. He said the Siros report could provide the necessary foundation for post-war reforms.

Much To Remember

Men Travelling After War Would Find Army Guidebooks Valuable

A great many of the lads who have been to the far corners of the earth in this global war say that once they get their feet planted in the old home town after the big scrap is over they won't do any more travelling. But a lot of them, having realized how much there is to the world, will want to see it again as civilians.

The more adventurous, who will hit for Africa deserts or sub-Arctic snows, will do well to remember useful information contained in army guidebooks. One of them, for example, points out that polar bears' livers are poisonous, a diet of rabbit will lead to death through "rabbit starvation," but seal hearts and kidneys and broiled reindeer moss are edible—Kitchener Record.

Only 12% of Great Britain's overseas trade is with the British Colonies, and imports from the United Kingdom total form only 24½% of the Colonies' total imports.

Roll your owners! Go for Ogden's

Old time "democrats" often give their drivers a rough ride. But they found consolation in Ogden's—the aristocrat of cigarette tobaccos—a distinctive blend of choice, ripe tobaccos, smooth as a kitten's wrist. Not just another tobacco, but Ogden's. Try it today. Ogden's quality for pipe smokers, too, in Ogden's Cut Plug.

Could Be Harmful

Care Should Be Taken When Sulfa Drugs Are Used

According to a recent summary compiled by veterinary authorities, the various sulfa drugs which have proved a boon in saving human lives are also saving the lives of farm animals. For example, sulfaguanidine has been found helpful in the treatment of certain types of coccidiosis in poultry, and in calf scour, and also in calf diphtheria. Sulfaguanidine is likewise being used in dealing with coccidial infection in sheep, and in certain cases of enteritis in swine. The sulfa drugs are still too new for all their possibilities and values to be known but there is no question they point the way in veterinary science. However, the Veterinary Director General of Canada points out that sulfa drugs unless used carefully are dangerous and on no account must be used unless under veterinary advice and supervision.

SMILE AWHILE

"That boy of ours gets more like you every day."
Husband (meekly): "What's he been up to now?"

"Can you recommend the company with which you are insured against accidents?"
"Rather! I have been insured ten years and never had an accident."

Little Betty was dressed in a bathing suit and taken into the water for the first time. Soon her voice was heard:
"Mother, is this thing supposed to be keeping me dry, 'cause it isn't a bit."

"I want a word of advice," the young man remarked to his uncle.

"What?" said Uncle freely.

"What is the best way to approach you for a loan?"

"If you are sensitive," replied Uncle firmly, "you had better write for it. Then when you get my reply, just tear it up without reading it."

"Personally I never stay out late at night."

"Why, don't late hours agree with you?"

"No, old boy; it's not the late hours that upset me, so much as the excitement when I get home!"

"He said he would be the earth at my feet," said the sentimental daughter.

"Yes," answered her experienced mother, "it sounds good, but it is not practical. You already have the earth at your feet. What you really need is a house over your head!"

Bilkine: "The fact is, doctor, that my wife does not walk enough. She can never be persuaded to go out without an object."

Doctor: "Then why do you not make a point of going out with her yourself?"

Mose, charged with theft, was on the witness stand, and the judge sought to discover if he knew the value of an oath. He said:

"Mose, if you tell a lie under oath, do you know what happens?"

Mose said: "Yassuh, Judge, I goes to hell."

"And if you tell the truth?" persisted the judge.

"I goes to jail," said Mose.

"What are you doing here, dear?"

"Looking for a husband."

"But you've got one!"

"That's the one I'm looking for."

"Hey; you've got my chin."

A GIANT CAMERA

The New York Times says the largest camera of its kind in the country is in the photocopy department of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. It makes as many as 800 negatives a day. A 3½ by six foot negative can be made as easily and quickly as an 8 by 10. The camera is so large that the photographer works inside of it—in complete darkness except for a dim red light.

THE RIGHT STUFF

This, too, is the spirit of victory. Left alone in his farm in Bertie township, near Fort Erie, Ont., without any help when his grandson, Howard Reuben Noyes, departed for Toronto to join the R.C.A.F., George F. House, who is 86, will do his farming himself and attempt to raise much-needed crops, as his contribution to the battle against Hitlerism.

The first English printed advertisement is believed to have appeared in 1477.

As a tribute to Jack Minor, the Canadian Naturalist and his work, the senate of Alma College, St. Thomas, Ont., at no expense to Jack Minor, at a recent meeting created what is and will be known for years to come as the Jack Minor Scholarship. In announcing the Jack Minor Scholarship, Dr. P. S. Dobson, the principal of the school, also announced that Wilhelmina Conklin Minor, Jack Minor's only granddaughter, was the first recipient of this award. Wilhelmina is the granddaughter of Jack Minor and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manly F. Minor of Kingsville, Ontario. Alma College, a boarding school for teen age girls, is one of the oldest ladies' schools in Canada where many outstanding women of the world have received their education.

A New Strategy

Japan's Former Ambassador To Washington Sees Way To Victory

Admiral Nomura, Japan's pre-Pearl Harbor Ambassador to Washington, offers the peoples of the Axis an assurance of victory that has at least the advantage of novelty. He says they do not have to attack any more. To win now they have only "to hold out in conquered positions."

In the case of Italy, to which the admiral's remarks are especially addressed, there happen to be no more conquered positions to hold out from. But the Germans have been experimenting exclusively in holding out for the past eight months. They have not done well with this strategy at Stalingrad, or at Moscow, or at Kursk, or in Tunisia. Japan's experience in holding out is even longer. Battles in the Coral Sea, at Midway around the Solomons and in the Bismarck Sea have already held out a sizable part of the Japanese Navy. Guadalcanal, Papua and Attu have provided additional lessons in holding out in conquered positions. In this succession of defeats Admiral Nomura professes to see a brand-new road to victory.—New York Times.

STATEMENT FROM BRITISH AND AMERICAN GOVERNMENTS SHOWS FEWER SHIP LOSSES

WASHINGTON.—In the war's most optimistic report on the battle against U-boats the British and American governments jointly announced Allied ship losses in June were the lowest in 19 months and U-boats so scarce on convoy routes that the hunt for them was turned to Axis home waters.

"Sinkings of Axis submarines were substantial and satisfactory," it was added.

"The losses from all forms of enemy action were the second lowest recorded since the war between Britain and Germany began."

The statement said the heavy toll taken of the U-boats in May showed its effect in June in that the main trans-Atlantic convoys were practically un-molested, and the U-boat attacks on our shipping were in widely separated areas. However, every opportunity was taken of attacking U-boats leaving and returning to their bases on the west coast of France.

U.S. navy announcement of the sinking of only two United Nations merchant ships in the western Atlantic last month presented a sharp contrast with the situation a year ago. In June, 1942, 111 Allied and neutral merchant vessels were reported sunk in western Atlantic waters alone.

The announcement refrained from saying, even by implication, that the anti-submarine war in won, but it observed "anti-submarine vessels and aircraft are coming into service in considerable numbers."

NEARS COMPLETION

Workmen Will Soon Finish Salvage Operation On French Liner

NEW YORK.—One of the greatest salvage operations of all time, the righting of the former French liner Normandie, apparently neared completion as workmen started construction of an observation platform from which the righting operation will be watched by naval and other officials.

Further evidence leading to belief salvage was almost completed was seen in the removal of shacks and toolhouses on the vessel's hull.

The $59,000,000 Normandie turned over on its side in the Hudson river after being damaged by fire Feb. 9, 1942.

LONDON.—More than $2,640,000,000 was raised in the government's four-month "Wings for Victory" borrowing campaign, Lord Kindersley, president of the national savings committee, has announced.

CANADA HAS LARGE SURPLUS OF FEED GRAIN WHICH MUST BE MOVED BEFORE VERY LONG

OTTAWA.—Agriculture Minister Gardiner said in the House of Commons that there is a great surplus of feed grain in Canada, much of it still in the fields, and that his anxiety is to get it moved out of the country to make room for this year's crop. Transportation problems interfered with the movement, he said.

There was a shortage of feed grain in U.S. but, through no fault of the transportation companies, hauling facilities could not handle it.

It had been hoped last spring to move 200,000,000 bushels into U.S. but—in spite of the utmost co-operation from the transportation companies—hauling had been available for only half that amount.

He said the surplus stocks were all over Canada, although the bulk was in the west.

Despite the great demands placed upon the railways by the necessities of war, a great deal of grain was being moved. It was hoped there would be a heavy movement to the east, for storage, before the freeze-up.

Mr. Gardiner said a report by The Canadian Press on this subject had described him as telling the house the 200,000,000 bushels of grain which it was hoped to sell U.S. was wheat. He said he had referred only to feed grain.

Mr. Gardiner had his war estimates before the house in committee of the whole.

He said the government needed the co-operation of newspapers, transportation companies and everyone

A NEW RULING

Prices Board Announces Further Instructions On Ration Books

OTTAWA.—The prices board has announced its ration administration has ruled that persons living in hotels or in boarding houses which are registered as quota users of rationed goods must surrender their ration books or temporary ration cards to the proprietors whether or not they eat their meals there.

The ruling applies to persons living in such establishments for a week or longer.

The announcement said the few Canadian hotels not registered as quota users must also collect ration coupons and surrender them to the ration administration.

From the ration books the proprietor must remove each week one butter coupon and two meat coupons, and every two weeks one sugar and one tea or coffee coupon. These must be sent by the quota user to the nearest branch of the ration administration.

Those who cook regular meals in hotel rooms and who need their ration books for supplies must apply at the nearest local ration board for the right to retain their ration books or cards.

TIME SHORTENED

Training Period For Japanese Air Cadets Cut In Half

NEW YORK.—An indication of Japan's severe losses in the air came from Tokyo radio, which broadcast an announcement that the training period for Japanese air cadets has been cut from three to one and one-half years.

The broadcast, recorded by United States government monitors, said youths who pass health examinations would be commissioned as air force second lieutenants in 18 months.

A NARROW ESCAPE

R.A.F. Pilot Recovered Consciousness In Time To Pull Rip-Cord

NEW DELHI.—A record-breaking delayed parachute drop was made by an R.A.F. pilot, Warrant Officer Francis D. C. Brown, of Canterbury, New Zealand, who fell 20,000 feet while unconscious and lived to tell about it.

In a half-dazed condition Brown pulled his rip-cord when only 3,000 feet from the ground and landed safely. He escaped from his plane after it had been damaged.

who could help to get this grain surplus moved to markets or storage places.

Mr. Gardiner said wheat farmers sold to the Canadian wheat board as long as the minimum price was higher than the market price. But when the market rose, as it had recently, farmers sold to the trade at a rate higher than the minimum price payable by the board. The trade had been selling wheat at the higher rate.

Subsidies paid on farm products in the calendar year 1942 had totalled $98,125,510. These included prairie farm assistance act, wheat acreage reduction, butter subsidy and similar payments.

It was estimated that financing of wheat board operations and carrying charges involved the use of $861,225,000 in the handling of wheat, Mr. Gardiner said, without specifying the period covered. Some $150,000,000 had been paid in other direct subsidies. Thus the total money made available for farm purposes had been more than $1,000,000,000.

Mr. Gardiner said he felt this answered the criticism that hundreds of millions of dollars were made available for the assistance of industry but not for agriculture.

WILL BE DELAYED

South Africans Must Wait For Results Of Election

JOHANNESBURG.—South Africa's 1,250,000 civilian voters went to the polls here July 7 to help settle one big issue—whether to continue the war as they have been fighting it for the last four years, or whether to return to opposition-pledged neutrality. The opposition is advocating a republican form of government and an end of the British connection.

The results will not be known for at least two or three weeks, as the mail ballots of 150,000 soldiers and sailors, who cast absentee votes, must be assembled and taken to Pretoria for counting before the civilian boxes can be opened.

General Chiang Kai-Shek Gives

Confident Message To China

CHUNGKING.—Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek told China on the even of the sixth anniversary of the outbreak of the conflict with Japan that the time limit for utter defeat of the aggressor "cannot exceed two years".

"In the seventh year of our war of resistance," he said in his anniversary message, "an offensive that will deal crushing blows to the enemy will be started in various theatres of the world and there will be an unending stream of victories."

"Our war of resistance and the world war situation on this day have reached the highest peak of our uphill struggle," he went on.

"One step beyond will be smooth sailing for us."

His message was one of a series of confident prediction from Chinese leaders of a complete Allied victory and elimination of Japan as a military power.

PRIME MINISTER KING THINKS INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION WILL BE NEEDED VERY SOON

OTTAWA.—Prime Minister King said in the House of Commons that the time is approaching when the concept of the United Nations will have to be embodied in some form of international organization, even before victory is won.

In a review of the world situation and Canada's part in international affairs, the prime minister said authority could not be equally divided among the 30 or more sovereign states in the United Nations.

A number of new international institutions are likely to have to be set up as a result of the war, he said, and in the view of the Canadian government effective representation on these bodies should be determined "on a functional basis" which would admit countries which had the greatest contribution to make to the particular object in question.

In his statement Mr. King said:

1. The new German offensive on the Russian front, along with intensified Allied bombings of strategic targets over Europe, marks a place of new beginning in the war in Europe."

2. The aerial and Commando assaults against Italy and Sicily, Sardinia and Crete, are parts of a single strategy "which the immediate future may be expected rapidly to unfold."

3. The war in 1943 must be thought of as a vital part of the war of liberation of oppressed countries of Europe.

4. Methods for consultation between the United Nations, including Canada, have been efficiently developed, and are being improved.

5. The bonds which had linked the United Nations into a working model of co-operation must be strengthened and developed for even greater use in years of peace.

6. The Canadian government would be glad to play its full part in giving aid to refugees.

7. The development of diplomatic representation for Canada spoke of the developing importance of Canada in the world community.

The prime minister outlined the work of combined boards forwarding the war effort of the United Kingdom and U.S. and said Canada's position was kept in mind.

Informal and exploratory discussions about international aspects of the post-war settlement were constantly taking place and Canadian experts and officials had participated in such discussions.

On matters as complex as methods for stabilizing currencies, it was obvious there must be many preliminary talks before plans can be framed for consideration of governments.

In discussing future organization of the United Nations, Mr. King said that on one hand, authority in international affairs must not be concentrated exclusively in the larger powers.

BRITISH FOREIGN SECRETARY DECLARES DAY COMING WHEN JAPAN WILL BE OVERWHELMED

LONDON.—Foreign Secretary Eden declared the day will come when the accumulated weight of the Allied power would "flow eastwards and overwhelm the empire of Japan."

Speaking at a "Salute-to-China" meeting in the Royal Albert Hall, Mr. Eden said, "there is in our hearts a fixed and grim resolve to teach Japan once and for all the lesson that co-prosperity is not achieved by cruelty and oppression and that he who draws the sword shall perish by it."

At the same meeting, Dr. V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese ambassador to Great Britain, said, "there is ground for hope that it will not be very long before a large-scale plan of dealing deadly blows to Japan will unfold itself."

Leonard W. Brockington, K.C., Canadian adviser to the British ministry of information, spoke of the trust and respect China enjoys everywhere.

Recently returned from a 40,000-mile tour of the war fronts, Mr. Brockington said, "the flag that in common justice should fly in the first place of honor, the soldiers that should lead the march in the triumphal entry into Japan—surely the flag and the soldiers should be China's."

Paying tribute to the Chinese people on the sixth anniversary of their war with Japan, Mr. Eden said, "every thrust against the Axis in Europe brings us nearer to the day when the full force of the United Nations can be brought to bear against Japan. Our great bomber offensive is only a prelude to heavier blows."

He said that living next door to Hitler led Britain to become pre-occupied with the menace of Nazi Germany, but he reiterated the promises of other British leaders that the "completion of our task in Europe is only the beginning of the end."

"We of the British Commonwealth and empire have a duty towards our own people in the Far East who are imprisoned and enslaved by the Japanese," said Mr. Eden. "We have a duty in those over-run territories of the empire; the duty to restore to their peoples the freedom and prosperity they previously enjoyed and to assist in their development towards better things."

"Finally, we have a duty towards our Allies, particularly in China, to destroy the Japanese menace and to help them to join in making a contribution for a better life in which all men may live in peace."

During 1942, Ceylon's village schools were responsible for the cultivation of 30,000 acres of crops.

Theatre Notes

A story of the European refugees comes to the Palace this week end in a film entitled "The Pied Piper." Here is a film that will give a true insight into refugee conditions in Europe. See youngsters and mothers, the old people and the crippled travelling along crowded highways, while enemy planes swoop low above them and war goes on in the air. It is truly a heart rending story of the innocents of war.

At Bellevue this week end is the film "Arabian Nights," starring Jon Hall, Maria Montez and Sabu. It depicts Bagdad, the desert port of allurements, desert raiders, harem thieves, slaves and reckless rogues clash in wildest revelry.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

The many friends of Grace Birardo, bride-elect, held a miscellaneous shower in the Catholic hall on Wednesday evening in her honor.

Whist, bingo and musical chairs formed the entertainment. Whist winners were Mrs. Alvina Pavlus, Mrs. Emily Miuuro and Miss Catherine Alampi. Mrs. J. Bortolotti was the winner of the musical chairs and Mary Sikora won the bean contest.

The hostesses, Mrs. G. Lant, Mrs. P. Feragotti, Mrs. A. Mascarin, Miss Millie Spievak and Miss Annie Kulig, served a very dainty lunch. During the evening's festivities the guest-of-honor received many beautiful and useful gifts.

Cigarette Fund Notes

Dear Friends: Thanks for the cigarettes posted from Montreal, April 20, and which I received to-day. These gift parcels of cigarettes are the finest and most acceptable goods you could send. I congratulate your organization on the regularity with which we receive these gifts.—J. T. Dunbar.

Dear Friends: Just a few lines to thank you all for your gift of 300 cigs. which I received to-day.—John Kanik.

Dear Sirs: A few lines to let you know that I have received another 300 cigs. I want to thank all the people of Coleman who make these monthly shipments possible. They are really appreciated by the fellows over here. In the past three months I was in London I bumped into John Kanik and Oscar Hirsch. I also met a few of the latest arrivals, J. Zak and my pal Bill Nimcan. Sure is great to get together again for a long chat.—Al. Krywolt.

Dear Sirs: I received your most welcome cigs, to-day and as usual they were well taken care of. It's sure a funny thing though how much difference there can be in English cigs. and good old Sweet Caps. Canadian boys just won't smoke them unless it is absolutely necessary. I think the Legion is doing swell work.—Jim Lloyd.

Dear Sirs: Thanks a million for the cigs. just received. I was out of them so I really appreciate them. It is wonderful the way the Coleman Legion and the people of Coleman treat one overseas. We are still getting along fine and working quite hard lately. I hope the war will be over this year; and it may be. Best regards to all my friends back home and thanks again for your kindness—Archie Wragg.

Sirs: Having received your most appreciated cigarettes I thank you very much. In times such as these they are most gratefully appreciated.—W. Cieslak.

Hello Boys: Receiving the cigs. O.K. Thanks a million, also thanks to those who make it possible for you chaps to keep up the good work.—Hirst Bros. Sudworth and Jones.

Dear Sir: Please accept my gratitude and thanks for the 500 cigarettes I received to-day. I have met quite a few men from home and my good friend Herman Hirsch and I plan to meet more on our leave.—L. Jankulak.

Dear Sir: Received your last carton of cigarettes and thanks a lot.—Frenchy.

Dear Friends: Received the cigarettes from the 5th May. Thanks a million.—Sgt. Celli.

Hi. Folks: Still receiving cigs. O.K. Am in good health and still hoping the war will soon be over. Of course it would be nice to see some more country. I think I would like to have a look at India or North Africa, but I guess we are stuck here for the duration. Any travelling I do after

I leave the service will all be in some other direction. I'll leave the British Isles strictly alone. I have been over here a year and a half and places to go on leave are running out. However I always manage to have a swell time whether I go north, south, east or west.—A. MacQuarrie.

QUANTITY OF MONEY and volume of credit are matters of high national monetary policy.

Canada's Chartered Banks exist to perform two main services:

1. They receive the savings and other funds of the public, who thus build up bank balances in the form of savings and current accounts.
2. They advance short term loans to persons or enterprises needing money and able to repay within a stated period.

Along with these main functions the banks, through more than 3,000 branches and sub-agencies, render a large number of other important services related to local and national needs—services which have greatly increased as a result of the war.

But the quantity of money in existence in the country at any given time, and the volume of credit, are matters of high national monetary policy. The nation's own central bank, the Bank of Canada, determines them. The Bank of Canada makes extensive use of the Chartered Banks' facilities in giving effect to these policies.

The Chartered Banks' responsibility, clearly established and regulated by the Bank Act, is in the realm of commercial banking—that is, to receive deposits and to serve the needs of trade and industry.

Exalted Ruler Nick Nicholas' Message to the Citizens of the Crows Nest Pass

We are holding our annual carnival on the 17th and 19th of July and sincerely trust we will receive the same splendid co-operation from the people of Coleman and the Pass as we have always done in the past. We are holding this carnival to raise funds in order to continue our charitable work and assist various organizations in their war work.

In our charitable work during the past year we gave 25 hampers throughout the town of Coleman last Christmas. In previous years this amount was more than doubled. Christmas day we held our annual free show for the children of Coleman and gave them several hundred bags of candy and fruit. What bags we had left over we turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution as they thought necessary.

We make a yearly contribution to the Woods Christian Home in Calgary. The Grand Lodge of The B.P.O.E. advises us that lodges throughout Canada are raising funds to contribute to the Save the Children Fund. Coleman lodge has already made two substantial donations and hope to continue with more.

We have made a donation to the local Air Cadets to assist building their bugle band and will assist them further. We have for the past few years sponsored a Pee Wee hockey team to encourage sport among our local youths.

All this work, which is of a charitable nature, involves expense and in order to continue we are holding our annual carnival to bolster our funds and trust that the people of the Pass will co-operate with us.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JULY 13

GOD ENCOURAGES MOSES

Golden text: Certainly I will be with thee. Exodus 3:12. Lesson: Exodus 3:12-4:31. Devotional Reading: Psalm 121.

Explanations and Comments

Moses is Further Encouraged. Exodus 3:12-4:31. Last week we heard Moses' pleading concerning his unfitness for the task expected of him, and God's assurance that he would be with him; that he, Moses, would succeed in leading the people out of Egypt and would worship God upon that mountain before them. Moses continued to think his mission through. He saw himself trying to arouse his people by telling them that the God of their fathers had sent him to free them. Would they accept him as their divinely appointed leader? He feared they would not. "Who made thee a prince and a judge over us?" had been their angry question forty years before when he had taken up their cause against the Egyptians. They would again question his authority. When he should tell them that "the God of their fathers" had sent him to them, they would ask, "What is his name?" They might have drifted far away from their ancestral faith. How could he convince them of the nature of God?

To the Hebrews the name of God was descriptive of his attributes: "a shortened summary of his character," the name has been called. At creation he was "Elohim," the God of power; to Abraham in a strange land "El-Shaddai," God Almighty; to Melchizedek he was "El-Elyon," The Most High. What was he to Israel? Moses asked. What name could describe him to the people?

And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM. The margin of the Revised Version gives these alternative translations of the Hebrew: I AM BECAUSE I AM, I AM WHO I AM, and I WILL BE THAT I WILL BE. The Hebrew word thus variously translated differs but slightly from the word "Jehovah" in form, and is equivalent to it in meaning. "The word 'Jehovah' is the result of a combination of the consonants of the original name (the consonants alone are written in ancient Hebrew) and the vowels of its substitute 'Adonai' [Lord]. Most scholars believe that the original form of the name was 'Jahve' or 'Yahve,' God calls himself 'Ehyeh,' i.e., I AM. When he is named by others, he is 'Jahve,' i.e., HE IS. The name denotes the absolute self-existence of God." (Dummelew).

NAVAL GUN SALUTE

According to Ships Magazine a naval gun salute 400 years ago was indisputable evidence of good will. Real shot was fired, but aimed at the sea. Since the guns could not be re-loaded and retired in much less than a half hour, the splashes following a broadside salute were proof that the ship could not fire again for a while.

HORSE SLEEPING SICKNESS

Proof found by U.S. investigators that St. Louis and western equine encephalomyelitis (horse sleeping sickness) are naturally transmitted by mosquitoes which are common to the Canadian prairies give emphasis to warnings by public and animal health authorities to vaccinate all horses this season.

Just because there were comparatively few cases of encephalomyelitis a highly fatal disease, among horses last summer, vaccination has been almost entirely neglected this year, according to Dr. J. S. Fulton, director of Animal Diseases Research Laboratory, University of Saskatchewan. Dr. Fulton has been a leading investigator of the cause and epidemiology of equine encephalomyelitis and its relationship to human cases. He has urged for some years the vaccination of all horses.

Thousands of animals died in a western epidemic a few years ago. Since then scientists have established the relationship between the disease suffered by horses and human encephalitis cases.

The mosquitoes found to be natural transmitters of the sleeping sickness, or brain fever, as it is sometimes called, are Culex tarsalis, Culex pipiens and Aedes lateralis. They are common in Western Canada. In Kansas, also, a bug, Tritoma sanguinea, has been found naturally infected with western encephalomyelitis. Lt.-Col. T. T. Mackie, U.S. Army Medical Corps, reported recently in The Journal of the American Medical Association. He regarded it as even more significant that experimental demonstration had shown two species of Dermacentor ticks could be infected and that in these species the infection could be transmitted to succeeding generations.

Possibility is seen in Canada that horses, unless protected against the disease, may provide a reservoir of infection to be transmitted to humans by such agents as mosquitoes and other insects and provide easy rapid and wide spread of such diseases.

World's largest and most beautiful explored caverns are the Carlsbad Caverns of New Mexico.

Lapel Badges Tell Army Service Story

Discharge Buttons, Or Badges Showing Effort To Enlist Worn By Many Civilians

"By their badges ye shall know them," is sage advice for those who wonder at the meaning of lapel-badges worn by many Canadian men in civilian clothes. These men have been rejected by the Armed Services, or have been discharged from them. Discharged soldiers of the present war wear a small, shield-shaped badge surmounted by a crown. Within the shield is displayed a sprig of three scarlet maple leaves on a silver background. On the lower border of the shield are inscribed the words, "General Service." When you encounter a man wearing that badge, you know that he has served in the Armed Forces of Canada, and has been honorably discharged. Before being issued the badge, he declared his willingness to go back on Active Service again if the Government ever needs his services.

Men who have applied for enlistment in overseas forces, and have been rejected because of physical deficiencies, wear a copper badge, light chocolate-brown in color. It is round-oval in shape, with a dark red enamel maple leaf in the center. Around the border you will find the words, "Applicant for Enlistment—Canada." The man wearing this badge tried honestly to join the Army, but was refused because of some physical disability, and, before receiving his badge, agreed to enlist voluntarily at such time as medical standards permit his acceptance.

The Douglas fir, largest tree in Canada, often reaches the height of 300 feet.

MICKIE SAYS—

Not Disrupting Studies

Boys Attending School Not Affected By New Work Order

Extension of compulsory transfer regulations to youths 16, 17 and 18 years old will not in any way interfere with their education, Labor Department officials said.

Under the new order, announced in the House of Commons by Labor Minister Mitchell, youths of these ages who are not attending school may be required to take certain jobs, but none will be taken out of schools or colleges.

It is expected many of them will be used in relieving labor shortages in farming and cutting of fuel-wood, and to replace men transferred out of the less essential jobs.

Details of the plan for using these young workers have not been worked out, but officials said care would be taken to prevent them being directed to jobs distant from their homes.

CHAPTER XI

TOGETHER Morgan and Rosita alighted out of the warehouse shadows. Hardly had they placed themselves on the opposite side of the automobile when they heard approaching footsteps and then the striding of a match as another cigarette was lighted. Morgan, lifting himself on tiptoe, saw the dim figure of Rojas pause beside the running-board of the car. The American gazed around and touched his pistol to Rojas' side. "Arriba, Captain," he said softly. "Hands up!"

Rojas whirled, blinking in his surprise. "Morgan!" he exclaimed. "Not so loud, senior," cautioned Morgan. "We want a word with you."

"You are under arrest, Morgan. Put that gun away." Rojas made no effort to raise his hands. "You are hunting the wrong people. Listen—"

The captain stepped back quickly and his hand flew toward the holster worn belted about his waist. "Sanchez! Pedro!" Rojas' voice rang into the night with the carrying qualities of a struck gong. "Hurry! Morgan is here—"

Morgan's arm rose and fell crashing the butt of the automatic down on Rojas' head. He crowded the falling figure against the car and eased the stunned man to the ground. "Rosita!" he cried. "Start the car and get out of here. Before the police come tumbling out of that building!"

The girl darted forward to jerk open the car door. Morgan gathered Rojas in his arms; the turning starter whirled the motor into life and Morgan, throwing himself with the unconscious captain into the rear seat, heard gear clash; the car jolted into motion with an abruptness that piled Morgan and his burden into a heap on the cushions.

ROSITA gripped the steering wheel more tightly and the crescendo of the motor increased as her foot flattened the accelerator against the floorboard. The police who blocked the exit jumped hastily to avoid the hurtling vehicle.

"Keep going, senior!" Morgan called. "They'll be after us as soon as they can round up another car." There was no need to halt for Morgan to take the wheel. Rosita Velasquez was handling the speeding car with all the dexterity Morgan himself could have commanded, and her superior knowledge of the streets enabled them to keep up the pace and quickly put the city behind them.

In his corner of the tonneau Rojas straightened, groaned under his breath and fingered the bump on his head. He eyed Morgan, the girl, the gun resting on Morgan's knee, then gazed at the night-dimmed countryside blurring past the window of the car.

"Are you mad, Senior Morgan?" he asked. "This is kidnapping." "You force us to take these desperate measures, captain. We want to prove to you that you should be on our side instead of Guillermo's. Guillermo is the spy whose activities brought me to Buenos Aires. It was he who ordered Velasquez and Diaz killed."

"I hope you speak the truth, senior," Rojas smiled. "I would like to believe that the confidence and cooperation we showed one another was not misplaced on my part."

Rosita turned the car off the highway, entering an empty lane that threaded through a grove of trees. Where the growth was thickest, the girl applied the brakes, and in that secluded spot Chris Morgan revealed the details of the tangle that had commenced when the American had first observed the faintly smudged surface of what should have been an immaculate and sparkling glass.

"CAPTAIN ROJAS heard him through, and was silent for a long moment. "That is a rather fantastic tale, Senior Morgan," he said at length. "I regret that I cannot accept it."

into the hotel there is a long chance that we can put the skids under Guillermo."

The girl glanced doubtfully toward the policeman. "But—Capt. Rojas—" "I shall handle Rojas," Morgan said briefly. "Wait until I have a look into the rumble seat."

Rosita took the automatic while Morgan left the car and opened the baggage compartment. He found a section of rope long enough to bind the arms of Rojas securely.

Rojas made no physical protest as his hands were tied behind his back. "I shall not forget this indignity, senior," he promised derisively. "Sorry, captain," Morgan apologized. "But I cannot trust you not to create a disturbance when we return to Buenos Aires, or while we are in the hotel." The knots tightened. Morgan took his handkerchief and fashioned a gag to place over Rojas' mouth and jaw.

Back on the highway, Rosita headed the car toward the lights of the distant city. Because the police would be on the lookout for Rojas, she sought the darker streets as soon as possible, and worked her way toward the Casa Grande by a circuitous route. Finally she swerved the car to the curb and stopped.

They remained in the car until the street was empty of pedestrians in both directions. Then Morgan hustled Rojas toward the sidewalk and, taking his captive's arm, forced him to walk with them to the corner and into the service driveway of the Casa Grande.

All the doors along the platform of the hotel were closed. Rosita took the keys from Morgan, unlocked one particular door, then nodded her head in signal that the hall within was temporarily deserted. "Stop at the fourth floor," Morgan whispered as he and Rojas stepped with the girl into the waiting elevator.

"But your room is on the fifth floor," said Rosita. "We are calling on Guillermo," said Morgan, closing the door of the elevator. "Say a little prayer, senior, that Don Felix is home and that he has not yet heard that we have been routed from the wool warehouse."

Next chapter: Morgan exposes Guillermo's secret.

Barrage Balloons in Britain Get Thorough Overhauling Every Day

Britain's barrage balloons are moored for the duration, and so are their crews, who must be on watch 24 hours a day, says "Britain." Every morning the cable must be oiled and there is a general checking up. The which must be cleaned and started up, and the "purity test" must be made with a meter which registers the amount of oxygen mixed with the gas. Too much oxygen can cause a dangerous explosion. The fabric must be carefully examined for punctures, and any holes must be mended.

Picket duty is very important, for a balloon might suddenly leave its moorings and go up. Members of the Women's Auxiliary Air Force are gradually taking over this job, except on island sites where the balloons are water-borne. A full crew consists of sixteen W.A.A.F.'s; but there must never be fewer than nine on duty.

NUMBER ONE TRAVELLER

King George is Britain's number one traveller. He has covered 36,000 miles in his royal train since the outbreak of the war, and all his journeys have been both necessary and helpful to the morale of the British citizens with whom he has shared joys and sorrows through good times and bad, moving freely about the country.—Financial Post.

An "engaged" column, in architecture, is a column partly embedded in a pier or wall.

Reclaimed From Sea

United States Army Engineers Have Created Air Field At Bermuda

Many remarkable achievements have been made in the reclamation of lands from marshes, rivers and the seas, and one of the most interesting of the present war is the airfield created by United States Army Engineers at Bermuda.

Named for one of its planners, Kindley airfield adjoins Fort Bell, one of the defenses of the island, and it was literally built up from the bottom of the sea. Where 18 months ago there was just the clear water of Bermuda, there is now one of the most up-to-date airfields that air services could wish for. Millions of cubic yards of fill were dumped into the area by dredgers until there was sufficient top surface on which to lay out runways and erect buildings that by any modern standard would be called impressive.

Fort Bell has undergone extensive modernization at the hands of the Americans who hold the land on a 99 years' lease from Britain. One of the roads is to be named Andrews in memory of General Frank M. Andrews who was killed not long ago in an air crash in Iceland, and another is to be Fox road in memory of the owner of the land who had refused fabulous offers from wealthy Americans who wished to build homes there. But he gave up his palatial home and the land as a contribution to winning the war, saying that if it was the King's wish he would be glad to do so. His death soon after was attributed to a broken heart.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

POST-WAR PLANS

Many cities in Great Britain, among them Birmingham, Coventry, York and London, are already planning for post-war buildings. "Planning" is the right word, for no longer are builders allowed to build haphazardly. The re-building of the cities is being controlled, and York, for example, is trying to determine in advance whether to plan for a population of 50,000, 100,000 or 150,000.

Bombs in general use by the R.A.F. in 1940 weighed 500 pounds. By March, 1942, bombs weighing 4,000 pounds were used and by September, 1942, we were dropping bombs weighing 8,000 pounds.

A DELIGHTFUL DESSERT MAKES THE MENU PERFECT

Canada's Householders know that custards and blanc-manges, quickly and easily made with pure, high quality Canada Corn Starch, are a delight with any luncheon or dinner menu.

At this time when Canadians are urged to "Eat Right to Feed Right", these delicious desserts will prove a welcome addition to the nutrition foods featured by the National Food for Fitness Campaign. Follow Canada's Food Rules for Health and Fitness.

ON THE THREAD LINE

BUSY WOMEN come to the workrooms in hundreds to sew ditty bags, hospital garments, refugee clothing. "When there's a lot to be done, a good deal depends on getting a head start in the day," says Emily Allen, business girl (left). "Kellogg's Corn Flakes are my favourite at breakfast time or anytime." Yes, Kellogg's Corn Flakes are the favourite in an overwhelming majority of Canadian homes. They're ready to eat in 30 seconds, leave no pots and pans to wash. Economical, too. Get some tomorrow. Two convenient sizes. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

DREAMS DO HAVE SIGNIFICANCE TO YOU

Did you dream one night of some terrible prehistoric monster? Did you dream of a giant ape? Don't dismiss the dream as just the consequence of these before bedtime. Such a dream might mean you have a subconscious dread of something, or maybe you are afraid to face something unpleasant.

For dreams do mean something. Modern psychologists do not laugh at our dreams. They use dreams as clues, messages from the unconscious, revealing to the conscious mind the states of which we may not be aware.

Our 32-page booklet deals with the scientific approach in a simple, easily understood form. Illustrating our points with examples of dreams which may well have been those of anybody or everybody.

This booklet will help you to connect your dreams with your behavior, your personality, your emotion and your aspirations, and so perhaps straighten out some of those personal difficulties which are likely to beset your path through life.

Send 15c in coins for your copy of "The Meaning of Dreams" to Home Service Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 175 McDermot Ave. E., Winnipeg, Man. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.
